- BUILDING ADDITIONS to campus brought everyone closer together and provided more opportunities for campus community activities.
- WE WANT THE FUNK. Major Madness was a huge success, especially the concert at the North End with George Clinton and Parliament Funkadelic.
- THE KAVA HOUSE became a favorite spot for dining, socializing and studying after its completion second semester. Special events such as Greek Jeopardy and the Chess Tournament were held there.

Working out in the HAC is great. Where else can you see cute girls working out on campus? For myself though, I enjoy the challenge and the sense of accomplishment that I get from working out and maintaining my physique.

HOMECOMING COURT.

Senior maids Sarah Fontenelle, Brandi Walker, Lindsay Whitfield, Lindsay Akers, and Amy Brazda were elected by the student body prior to the Homecoming game.

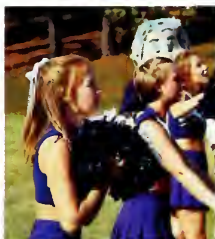

SPECTATING. Charles Barnewold watches as the Majors take the field.

SOUVENIRS. In support of the Majors, students and alumni purchase T-shirts from Shelly Breland.

RALLYING THE CROWD. Beth Doshier and Shelly Byrd lead fans in a rousing cheer.

SOCIALIZING. Amy White visits with her family at the Tri Delta brunch Saturday morning.

GAME TIME. Football players and cheerleaders storm the field to the roar of a spirited crowd.

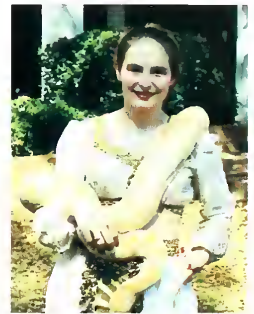

Friends come together for a weekend filled with festivities and football!

I HAVE BEEN a huge supporter of the Millsaps Athletic Department for the three years I have been at Millsaps. Our athletes work very hard and don't get half the credit they deserve. Football is one of my favorite sports, and it was great to see the Majors come back with a couple of touchdowns after having a not-so-good first half.

-Lane Douglass

CARNIVAL WAS THE first full scale musical put on by the Players in nearly 10 years. Homecoming turned into an entire weekend themed around Carnival, including popcorn and cotton candy in the bowl, a man on stilts, clowns, and two Burmese pythons. The most nerve racking part of the weekend was keeping one of the pythons on my shoulders! -Melinda Bott

Reunion

FAKE IT UP. During the halftime show, the Major Impressions dazzle the crowd with their new moves and uniforms.

CLOWNING AROUND. In the Bowl on Saturday, Travis Clay amuses everyone by making balloon animals.

POST-GAME PARTY. Sun Volt captivates the students with their edgy music.

PRE-GAME. Will Wikle tailgates with the Tri Deltas before the game begins.

SPORTS FAN. Susan Mareno soaks up the sun as she watches the Majors play Rhodes.

Moving-in is one day of chaos compared to a lifetime of friends.

MOVE-IN DAY is hectic, but it's a lot of fun being able to meet the freshmen. Being an RA has been a great experience. I've really enjoyed helping the people out on campus. -Chad Washington

MOVING IN AND the first few days at Millsaps were pretty hectic. Mainly I was just relieved that my roommate, Ann, did not turn out to be nearly as scary as she sounded during our first phone conversation. We ended up having so much fun this school year. -Kim Jones

Settling

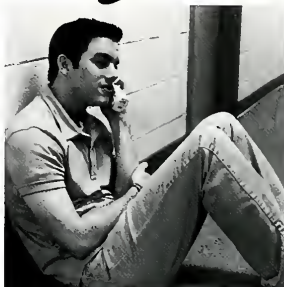

HOME COOKING.

Because of rain, Jennifer Honican and Molly Johnsey had to fix burgers in Bacot's lobby at the dorm cookout.

UM, UM GOOD. Derrick McNeal serves Adam Causey at the Meet the President reception.

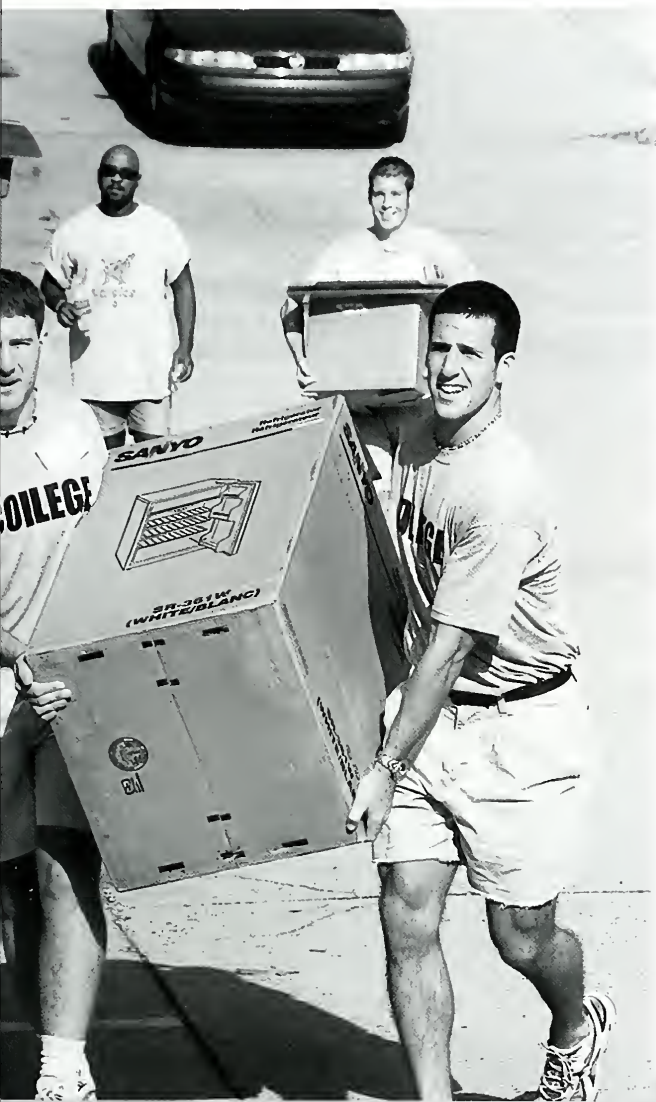

Y2K READY. Barrett Ingram makes his Galloway room more like home by setting up his PC.

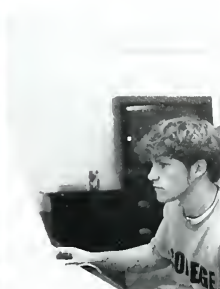

PHONE HOME. Jason Stine spends a little of his spare time talking to his mom.

READY, SET, GO. Julian Dodd, Katie Hardy, and Amy Loy anticipate the hoola-hoop coming their way during the Freshmen Olympics.

Will Wixie

Michael Waters

Catherine Hall

Hicks Winters

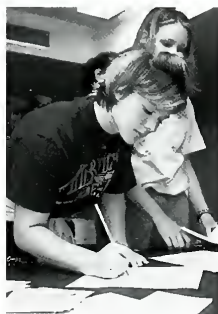

A LEADER'S DUTY.

Ryan Bourgeois and Reagan Toledano assisted the incoming freshmen and carried boxes that were filled to capacity.

$1.50 CLEAN. Lance Stoner washes his clothes in the Goodman laundry room.

FRIES WITH THAT? Erika Garavito and Shelley Harrigill keep Patrick Cooper on top of things at the Bacot cookout.

ONE STEP CLOSER. Aimee Boudreaux selects a new room for her sophomore year.

RA DUTIES. Chris Randall informs Drew Ford about the terms of the Galloway housing contract.

FOLDING INTO A NEW LIFE. Amy Thames makes her bed for the first time in Bacot W37.

With bands, games and food, Major Madness kicks off spring at Millsaps!

AT THE MAJOR Madness Talent Show, I walked out in my bare feet and played Imagine by the master songwriter John Lennon, one of my favorite artists. -Robert Caskey

I NEVER THOUGHT college students could have so much fun with blow up toys. You get to act like a kid again! The best part is when a professor starts playing, and you get to shoot them for that bad grade "they" gave you on that paper. -David Chambers

Funky

DINING AL FRESCO. Chris Randall is served lunch outside in the Bowl.

MAJOR QUAKE. Will Steelman concentrates at his computer during the Quake Tournament.

TASTY CRITTERS. Derriax Gadlin savors the flavor of cajun crawfish under the shade of a tree.

BANDED. Clay Nelson gets his over-21 wrist band as he enters the North End to hear George S. Clinton.

DIG IN. Emily Olivier gets her share of the crawfish.

MUD BUGS.

Food was one of the highlights of Major Madness. Despite the rain, Michael Bentley and Sarah McAtee were able to enjoy the traditional crawfish and corn in the Bowl.

CENTRIC. George S. Clinton and the Parliament Funkadelic entertain an enthusiastic crowd on Friday night.

ALL WHIPPED UP. Wendy Lyons and Margaret Anzelmo have fun during the annual Chi Omega Pie Toss in the Bowl.

BRRRRR. Katie Clegg serves snow cones at the Kappa Delta/Tri Delta booth benefitting a local charity.

FLYING HIGH. Melanie Cook bounces down the giant inflatable slide.

FUNNY FACES. Gretchen Gifford and Laura Hillgartner anxiously wait to see their finished caricature.

Betsy Ferrell

COME ALL YE FAITHFUL.

Brandon Baxter, Travis Clay, Borrett Ingram, and Cole Cheek raise their voices in song at the annual Advent Service of Lessons and Carols, one of the most beloved Millsaps traditions.

BUST-A-MOVE. Brittany Levy dances the night away with one of the children who came to Santa Shoestring. The children went to all of the sorority houses to participate in various activities.

ALL I WANT FOR CHRISTMAS.

Andrew Clark loads a bike that will surprise a child whose name was on the Angel Tree.

COTTON TALES.

Bunny Shoestring was a campus wide activity that brought children to campus for an afternoon of fun.

TRICK OR TREAT. Meg O'Beirne and Ashley Huff pass out Halloween candy to the children of faculty and staff.

DEVOTION. Erica Adkins takes communion at the Maundy Thursday Service.

Whatever the season, Millsaps always found a reason to celebrate.

THE BETA BETA BETA holiday featured the notorious faculty band "Science Rocks." Connie Campbell, Dick Highfill, and I played parodies of popular holiday songs. We had quite a blast playing such favorites as "Grandma Got Run Over By a Reindeer" and "Christmas at Millsaps."

-Dr. Mick Veum

THE KD/KA EASTER Egg Hunt was a really great time. We hid about 200 eggs for all of the Millsaps faculty and staff. The highlight of the day was when Wade White dressed up as the Easter Bunny and played with the little kids.

-Adam Lambert

Jubilee

SERVICE WITH A SMILE. The faculty and staff, including Andrea Pound and Anita Umrall, served a late night breakfast during exams.

SILENT NIGHT. Jeff Mitchell lights Katie Clegg's candle as the choir processes out into the Recital Hall to sing Silent Night at the close of the Advent Service.

LEAPING LIZARDS. Greer Proctor receives a lizard as a gift at the RA Christmas Party.

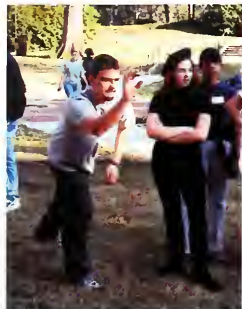

CHRISTMAS CLASSICS. At Santa Shoestring, Daniel Redmond, Aimee Boudreaux, and Brady Haanes acted out How the Grinch Stole Christmas.

GIVE THANKS. Vicki Myers and Caroline Ranck were in the Chapel Choir which performed at the Thanksgiving service.

The campus calendar is filled with events offering students ample ways to become involved.

PETANQUÉ IS A game played throughout Europe, similar in some ways to horseshoes in the U.S. While I won the Petanqué contest at the Francofété Celebration, some high school kid gets the prize...quelle justice!

-Kevin Richardson

FOR EARTH DAY we tried to set up booths that would show people how to be environmentally friendly. One of these booths was the Vegetarian/Organic food booth. At first some people were a little hesitant to try this bizarre health food, but almost everyone eventually found something that they really liked. -Katie Hardy

Festive

WORLDLY FASHION. Michael Waters prepares to take the runway at the MultiCultural Festival.

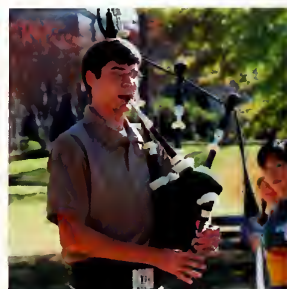

KNOCKOUT. Will Jordan throws a punch during a round of Bouncy Boxing.

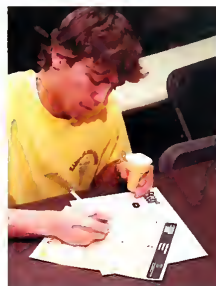

ARTIST IN ACTION. Star Ray paints a sign for the upcoming Earth Day Festival.

GOLD MEDAL. Elizabeth Lutz and Liz Dubuisson celebrate their team's victory at the Freshman Olympics.

MOOD MUSIC. Jim Goode adds an Irish touch by playing the bagpipes at the MultiCultural Festival.

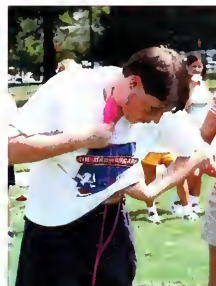

Loren James

Brinda Rao

Billy Dubusson

Jared White

READY FOR THE SHOW.

Sherryl Wilburn adjusts Melissa Quinn's Indian costume at the MultiCultural Festival. Clothes from various cultures were featured at the fashion show in the Bowl.

SLIPPING BURGERS. At the MultiCultural Festival, Brian Berthiaume lends his culinary skills to food participants.

ECO-FRIENDLY. Shadia Slaieh and Ben Allen examine the battery powered Honda at Earth Fest.

STICKY SITUATION. Derriax Gadlin makes his way through the Velcro Obstacle Course.

BALANCING ACT.

Torn Murphy competes in a relay at Francofesté.

IRISH FOR A DAY. On St. Patrick's Day, Allyson Gregory and Edwin Roberts take a break in the plaza. The water in the new fountain had mysteriously turned green during the night.

RELAXING.

Georgia Williamson, Brinda Rao, and Mondl Coody converse as they enjoy the spring sunshine in the Bowl. After lunch or on a nice afternoon, students congregated in the Bowl to study and relax.

STUDIOUS. Andrea Gilbert reads quietly outside in the hallway of Bacot.

MEETING PLACE. Billy Dubuison and Starlight Ray take a break from a hectic day.

BON APPETITE. Tora Clay learns to prepare Mediterranean chicken risotto during David Woodward's cooking class in the Kava House.

FINE ARTS. Jane Buck communes with posters at the annual fall poster sale.

PET THERAPY. Drew Hutchinson pets a puppy outside of Murrah Hall.

Finding the perfect blend of learning and laughing was all in a day's work.

I LOVE READING in the Bowl because it's a beautiful place to get some studying done, while at the same time enjoying the scenery. I was reading Snow Falling on Cedars for my IDS class. It's a good book about a courtroom trial, and since my next stop after Millsaps is law school, I guess that's why I was so interested in the novel.

-Byron Cooper

THE LITTLE TRADITIONS of Millsaps football like the playing of the fight song after touchdowns, the SAE's with painted faces, and the Major coming to say "Hi" are great bonuses to going to football games.

-Carrie Thune and Amy McClellan

Unwind

AN AND MEAN. Brad Lokitz concentrates as he completes reps on the chest press.

SOLITUDE. Hannah Page takes advantage of the beautiful weather.

GOING 'BOWL'-ING. Kolie Wegner and Bishop Porter walk through the Bowl.

ALL FOURS. Vinh Nga, Jared Mott, and Jim Gaode participate in the MultiCultural Festival by waiting anxiously for a karate instructor to leap over them and break boards on the other side.

LAUGH IN. Anna Shelton and Coralie Farish share a hearty laugh.

Building additions, such as the HAC and Student Center, brought students together.

I THINK THE HAC is gorgeous! Plus, it is right here on campus and free. It has a variety of machines and workout areas that appeal to every kind of exerciser. I really enjoy the kickboxing classes. They enable you to get a great workout and work on self-defense.

-Jennifer Wilson

I HAD A TWO hour break before my 3:00 exam, so I went up to Student Affairs for a free massage. While I was there, I also played with watercolors. It was a much needed break! -Emily Merriman

Unity

BOREDOM BUSTERS. Leigh Brasuell works out on an elliptical runner in the HAC. Watching TV relieved exercise boredom.

SELF SERVE. Jonathan Vines and Elizabeth Bishara fix themselves tacos in the temporary cafeteria.

BREW HA HA. Joe Wang studies in the Kava House. Instead of driving to Cups for coffee, students dropped by the Kava House.

CHOW TIME. Margaret Anzelma fixes a fresh salad in the renovated cafeteria, which now offers a grill, sandwich bar, and variety of other foods.

PUMPING IRON.

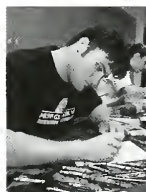

Hoofar Tabari spots as his brother Hootan Tabari bench presses during a workout session.

DOWNTIME. Manda Cashman, Yan Wilbur, Dell Smith, and Jeremy Lifton enjoy the comfortable couches and big screen TV in the Kava House.

LET'S GET PHYSICAL. Ricky Relan runs on one of the new treadmills in the HAC.

EXAM STRESS. Roman Rabourn takes a study break to relax in the stress free zone.

STROLLING. Jess Roberts and Drew Walker walk over the new commemorative brick and seal display in the Bowl.

CHECKMATE. Agnes Chzran and Sergey Dzigan match minds in a game of chess as Artem Mashnitskiy and Tora Clay look on.

Students took time-out from studies and showed their stuff at intramurals.

INTRAMURALS ARE A blast for everyone who competes, refs and coaches. People actually give it their all. For instance, the team I coached went above and beyond the call of duty. Sistahs With Game are the three-time defending intramural flag football champs, and they do what it takes to win. -Anthony Bullock

I NEVER FULLY realized how much of a contact sport basketball was until we played the faculty. They must have A LOT of pent up aggression. -Christine Koenig

Vitality

CONCENTRATION. Beau Roode takes batting practice before a game on the last Sunday afternoon of the year.

CONTACT SPORT. Paul Stout races to the ball in hopes of beating Timmy Sheehan.

TIME-OUT. Officials T. Francis and Eric Navarre watch the action during a game between the Tri Deltas and the faculty.

REACH FOR THE TOP. Chad Gardner and Jon Kelly go for a loose ball in the basketball championship game.

CATCHING THE ACTION. Lindsay Calhoun played second base for the Tri Delta team.

SERVING Erin Powell offers her time and love serving lunch at Stewpot, one of many places where students got involved in volunteering.

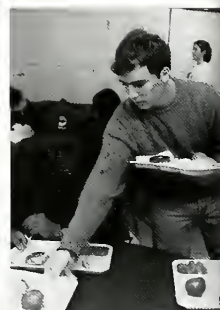

SHARING. Jessica Perkins spends quality time with a child at Santa Shoestring.

WE'VE GOT THE BEAT. The Rhythms dazzle the audience with their talent at the Delta Underground Talent Show. The proceeds went to UMC Children's Cancer Clinic.

DITCH DIGGERS. Joy Mitchell and Lindsay Calhoun spend a Saturday morning digging trenches at a Habitat for Humanity house.

WATERMELON CRAWL. April Slayden and Daniel Gibbons prepare for a day of fun at the Lambda Chi Watermelon Bust.

WAITING TABLES. Peter Nix helps serve lunch at Stewpot during one of the Millsaps weeks in November.

Participation in community service enriched the lives of Millsaps students.

I GIVE BLOOD because I know it's going to help somebody else. There is no pain involved when you may be saving others. Besides, the name of the blood mobile is so cute--the Blood Vessel! -Sherry Smith

SERVING THE SCHOOL and community is done in a variety of ways by students at Millsaps. One of most popular is the Angel Tree project. This has become an annual tradition for Circle K, and it involves the entire campus. -Mandy Nicholas

Charity

CHILDREN'S GAMES. Graham Kelly plays with the children at the Phi Omega house during Bunny Hoestring.

SHOW ME THE MONEY. Matt Carroccio presses his luck at the KD/KA Casino Night, which benefitted the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

FUN IN THE SUN. Rose Hurder and Valerie Paasch volunteer at the Tri Delta and Kappa Delta show cone booth.

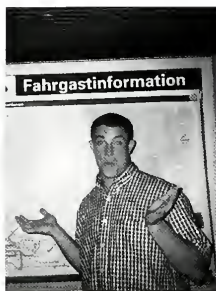

THREE'S COMPANY. Charles Barnewold makes two new friends at the Santa Shoestring events.

COOKING AND CARING. Lizzie Vincent and Kristi Joyner serve food for children from Our House at the Circle K and CMT philanthropy "Dinner and a Movie."

FAT TUESDAY. Kristy Jones and Angela Payne took a break from the Maral Gras parades in Baton Rouge.

COSTA RICA. Brandi Walker and Liza Gombel wait for instructions before wandering off to find a quiet place to study.

Planes, trains and automobiles were favorite ways for students to break from daily routines.

THE ROPES COURSE was a great bonding experience for the RA's. The purpose of the activity was to build trust and learn to communicate with each other.

-Erika Garavito

DRIVING OURSELVES THROUGH southern Ireland was the best way to experience the country with the limited amount of time we had for Spring Break. From standing on the Cliffs of Moher to walking down the busy streets of Dublin, we had an amazing week. -Tracy Gillanders

Escape

GUARDING. Christy Jones, Catherine Smith, and Caroline Plank pose with a Czech soldier at Prague Castle.

ROAD TRIP. After a long week on the Chamber Singers tour to Washington, DC, Lica Gamble, Betsy Farrell, and Dr. Coker still manage a smile.

CAMPUS CONTACTS

Rising Stars

Under the guidance of director

Lucky Winner. Ms. Denise Gonsalves of dining services won a 19" television in a raffle sponsored by BSA.

Terrance Alexander, the Millsaps Gospel Choir accomplished several feats this year. The choir was selected to perform on the Eddie Miles Tri-State Syndicated Gospel Television Show and sang in churches across the state. They also signed a contract to record with Jubilee Records.

Strong Leaders

Serving as officers of the SBA were Sam King as President, Kate Pearce as 1st Vice President, Vaughan Jinks as Secretary, Chad Washington as Treasurer, and Laura Ferry as 2nd Vice President.

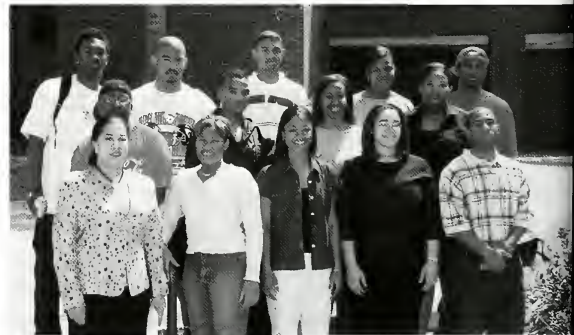

Serving the Campus

"I feel honored to serve as president during such an exciting time in Millsaps' history. The level of student enthusiasm is high due to the changes taking place, from the new facilities and renewal of old rivalries to changes in administration."

WORSHIP SERVICE

Catholic Inspiration

Catholic Campus Ministry held weekly mass on campus. The CCM played regularly with the children at Our House, an area shelter for runaway and abused teens. They sang to the residents of the Alzheimer's unit of St. Catherine's Village. They also provided a mission opportunity to Saltillo, Mexico. "Our mission trip to Mexico was truly the most humbling experience ever. Many of the people of Saltillo have so very little, according to our standards. But what they lack in material possessions, they more than compensate for in their deep spirituality and their rich zest for life. And that is something for which we all left Mexico revering them and perhaps even envying them a little bit," said Molly Jeffcoat.

Campus Worship

The Campus Ministry Team sponsored the Midtown Project and monthly services in the Fitzhugh Chapel. At right, Carolina Whitefield-Smith assists Jonathan Kilgore, director of the Chapel Choir, as he plays during the Thanksgiving Service.

ACTIVITIES

GLOBAL CULTURE

La Tertulia

Students met weekly in the cafeteria for Spanish conversation led by Shelley Harrigill, president of the Spanish Club. To add a little flavor to the conversation, monthly dinners were held at various restaurants around town where students conversed with native Spanish speakers from the Jackson area.

French Heritage

The French Club assisted Mrs. Gail Buzhardt in making visuals and posters for a presentation on the "French Heritage in the South." Mrs. Buzhardt's lecture was sponsored by the French Club and the Alliance Francaise. It was presented March 16 on campus.

Kaffestunde

Each week, Dr. Joan Cotter prepared German cuisine and coffee for anybody who wanted to join the conversation group. Dr. Cotter's only condition was that no English could be spoken. In November, the German Club celebrated the ten year anniversary of the fall of the Berlin Wall.

MAJOR RECOGNITION. At the dedication ceremony for the Campus Life Complex, Dr. Harmon presents Dr. Raymond Martin and his wife Louise with a print of the Bell Tower in recognition of their contributions to the college.

Q: President Harmon, what were your most significant achievements?

A: I cannot speak in terms of "I." With the help of faculty, staff, and the Board of Trustees, Millsaps has been recognized nationally as a premiere liberal arts college. It has improved its student body academically, geographically, and culturally.

Q: How do you feel about your accomplishments?

A: Accomplishment comes through others; my job is to get good people and let them do their jobs.

Q: Why did you decide to retire?

A: I feel like it is time to leave. Millsaps is concluding its third major fund-raising campaign. It's time for new energy.

IN MEMORY OF LILLIAN-ELIZABETH STICKLE 1979 - 1999

"She was always herself... loved to play the devil's advocate... highly intelligent... very encouraging of everyone's potential... knew how to have a good time... nobody intimidated her. Ellé commanded attention, which makes her absence all the more difficult."

- THE ATHLETIC STAFF welcomed a host of new faces. Janet Johnson joined Millsaps as director of the Hall Athletic Center. Cara Rasmussen assumed the position of Sports Information Director.
- VARSITY TEAMS also experienced new additions to their coaching staffs. Bob Tyler and Ronnie Grey joined together to lead the football team. Missa Turman was named new cheerleading sponsor. Women's soccer gained Diane Rulewicz as its new coach.
- STUDENT ATHLETES made the grade. Three varsity athletes received national recognition. The athletic grade point average was higher than the overall average of all students.

Being part of the women's varsity soccer team has been one of the highlights of my life at Millsaps. Road trips, 6:30 a.m. practices, and learning how to "clean" in weightlifting have provided opportunities to experience new things and form long-lasting friendships.

For A Relationship To Meet Your Financial Goals,
Look To AmSouth.

AmSouth Bank has a tradition of offering the finest banking services available anywhere. In fact, we constantly work to expand and improve our services. That's one reason we have become one of the South's premier financial institutions. Another reason is practice. The practice of relationship banking. We believe the more you put into a relationship, the more you get out. So you'll find special discounts, bonuses and added benefits in the financial relationships we offer. Stop by today and see what we mean. At AmSouth, our record speaks for itself.

Thanks to: Dean David Sneed, Sandy Rhymes, Betty Hulsey, Patrick Cooper, Andrea Pound and the rest of the Student Affairs staff for their cooperation and support; the Business Office for handling yearbook orders and billing; Steve Douglas of Graduate Supply House for his encouragement; Gwenyth Winston and Jennifer Hoover of Herff Jones for in-plant help; the Post Office staff for assisting with yearbook distribution; the Maintenance staff for moving us to our new room; Cara Rasmussen and Missa Turman for help with sports information; teachers and students for donating pictures for the book; Brian Berryhill for his help with photography.

CROPPING IS FUN! Laura Lane crops the pictures for her section, while Rachel Baird helps her choose the best quality pictures.

COMPUTER CRASHED AGAIN?! Brooks Brower, Lindsey May and Beth West work to finish the Student Life section of the yearbook

It was kind of upsetting that we had to have graduation at Thalia Mara because of the tradition of having it in the Bowl, but at least there was air conditioning.

Progress

- AFTER 22 YEARS OF BUILDING up the college financially, academically, and aesthetically, Dr. George Harmon announced his retirement. A nationwide search resulted in Dr. Frances Lucas-Taucher being chosen as the 10th president starting in July of 2000.
- THE YEAR WAS MARKED by significant change. From double-wides and styrofoam plates to the new Hall Athletics Center and the Waterwall, the college community witnessed a progression that will lead Millsaps into the new millenium.
